Read the following text then answer the questions that follow. Your answers should be based on the text.

In the last fifty years or so, new technology has made massive changes to the world. Mobile phones, computers and the Internet have all made the world faster, and so have cars and heavy industry. Not everybody agrees whether these changes have had a positive or a negative effect on our health. Our health has certainly improved in some ways. Firstly, medical science has improved, which means that doctors are better at curing illnesses and can help us to prevent them. What is more, new technology has made our lives easier by doing many of the hard and dangerous physical jobs and tasks that we used to have to do with human strength.

On the other hand, technology has made our lives easy in some respects. Some people go everywhere by car or take the lift instead of the stairs, and in the end they never get any exercise. Furthermore, today's diet has changed greatly. Nowadays people eat a lot of unhealthy processed food, whereas people in the past ate natural, organic food. As a result, the risk of heart disease is greater now. In addition, today's lifestyle is very stressful because of the pressures of work and faster communication.
